JANESVILLE MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER FALLING GARAGE

JOHN KOLB, 37, IS KILLED IN RAISING SHED ONTO TRUCK

SUFFERS HORRIBLE INJURIES WHEN SUPPORTS COLLAPSE.

RIBS FRACTURED Injuries to Chest Cause Punctured Lungs and Hemorrhage.

John S. Kolb, 37, a truck driver living at 227 St. Mary's avenue, met a horrible death here early Wednesday morning when a one-car garage building fell on him, pinning him to the ground and crushing all the ribs on his right side.

With his lungs punctured by the fractured bones and bleeding freely from the nose and mouth, he died at Mercy hospital within a few minutes after the accident. Death was due to the puncturing of the lungs and a hemorrhage, it was stated by Dr. M. B. Farnsworth, who attended the dying man.

Word of the accident occurred in the rear of the Gower Hays, 955 State street, and near the Janesville Traction company's car barn, about 7:45 a. m.

Kolb and his uncle, George Irwin, were endeavoring to raise the garage off the ground with jacks. It did not move, and Kolb went under it to get just the jacks. He was lying on the ground, and his left side when one of the supports collapsed and the building dropped on him, his chest receiving the full force of the weight. The building was raised and he was removed from underneath it. The police ambulance hurried him to Mercy hospital where he died 20 minutes later.

Support Collapses They had succeeded in getting it from three to four feet in the air when Kolb went under it to get just the jacks. The building was raised and he was removed from underneath it. The police ambulance hurried him to Mercy hospital where he died 20 minutes later.

Wife and Child Born in Beaver Dam, May 5, 1884, John Stephen Kolb came to Janesville 15 months ago. He had been in business for himself and was well liked. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Order of Foresters.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Elizabeth, age 5; his mother, Mrs. Francis Kolb, Milwaukee; three brothers, Joseph, of Chicago, Jacob of Madison, and Andrew of Beaver Dam; and three sisters, Mrs. Joseph S. Peter, Oak Park, Ill., and Elizabeth Kolb, Janesville.

Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

Judge Couldn't Tell 'em Apart; Both Freed

Madison—Puzzled by the similarity in appearance of Leo and Leonard Johnson, 18 year old twins, a district court judge here decided to free both. They were on trial on a charge of stealing an automobile.

Remember This—

12 GAUGE Winchester repeating shotgun in car, sawed off shot gun and sawed off double barreled shotgun. Return to Gazette office.

Arthur Leavon, 215 North Terrace street, lost his Sunday, Monday he inserted a lost ad in the Gazette Classified columns. At 4 p. m. Monday George Helmer, 709 North street, brought the gun in to the Gazette office.

Mr. Helmer did not know Mr. Leavon, nor did he know who the gun belonged to until he saw the Classified Ad in the Gazette.

Thus again did Gazette Classified Advertising demonstrate its power to bring two people together to the advantage of both.

More than 90 per cent of the lost articles advertised for in the Gazette Classified columns are returned.

On the City Government

The GAZETTE is pleased to announce to the people of Janesville that it has been able to prepare for the benefit of the citizens here, as well as a model of analysis interesting to all municipalities in the state of Wisconsin, a careful examination of the basic governmental operations of the city.

The work has been done for the Gazette by Gaylord Cummin, of Grand Rapids, Mich., one of the foremost authorities on city government in the United States.

Mr. Cummin is a civil engineer of wide experience. He has had experience also in the practical management of a city, having been the first city manager of Jackson, Mich., and afterward City Manager of Grand Rapids, Mich., from which he retired to become an Efficiency Examiner of Municipalities closely allied to the work of the National Municipal Research Bureau of New York, of which Mr. Cummin is consulting engineer.

Janesville is on the eve of making a new budget. It is also on the eve of borrowing about $50,000 to carry the city to the end of the fiscal and tax year. It has spent more in 12 months than in any one year in its history heretofore. It has had more money to spend and has spent it. WHAT THE TAXPAYERS ARE DEEPLY INTERESTED IN IS WHETHER THEY HAVE RECEIVED 100 CENTS FOR EACH DOLLAR.

MR. CUMMIN SAYS THEY HAVE NOT and proceeds to show why and how and where.

In securing this analysis of the city government the Gazette has been actuated by one motive alone—to help the people of Janesville solve the problem of city government. The city is in a new era of life, dominated by a new spirit of progress and advancement. Let the Gazette also make it clear that no man, no individual is attacked nor is any one person or individual criticised in the report made by Mr. Cummin. For every criticism Mr. Cummin provides a remedy.

Persons and people standing alone have nothing to do with this. Offices, ordinances, methods, administration, lack of centralized authority have everything to do with the failure to give the taxpayers what they pay for in Janesville. They are aroused as never before over the expenditure of the greatest sum in the city's history and an empty treasury.

Great corporations and lesser ones keep constantly on the job men who are looking for higher efficiency in management. They are seeking waste and lost motion. Henry Ford will pay more to that man than any other who can show how to save a nickel on an operation or speed up production a minute or so in another operation. He does not get peeved because some one shows him he is losing money. But after the showing is made and the head of the department fails to meet the new requirement he is dismissed forthwith.

In the present city government of Janesville, management is like kissing by favor. No matter how much that may be denied the statement is justified by the facts as they are daily disclosed. How many paving companies are competing for Janesville street work? Why are we paying 50 cents a load for gravel when business dictates that it can be had for one cent? Why do we find it necessary to pay for 4,000 candle power to light a few blocks now using 200 candle?

The trouble about the system of government we have is, according to Mr. Cummin, "Government by Complaint," as well as "Government by Tradition"—the "Forty Years Ago" stuff.

THE TAXPAYERS OF THE CITY ARE GETTING 40 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR FOR THE MONEY THEY PAY INTO THE CITY TREASURY IN SERVICE AND EFFICIENCY. THE REST IS WASTE—WASTE AND MORE WASTE, says Mr. Cummin.

HAPHAZARD METHODS, long established and continued from one administration to another under the system either by special charter or by general city law of the state, have made this condition possible.

THE CITIZENS HAVE BEEN LULLED TO SLEEP by noise and all the time their money has been wasted.

You will read with intense interest what Mr. Cummin has to say of the way things are purchased for the city as well as how they are done when efficiency and not favor or something else dictates.

MR. CUMMIN'S REPORT MADE FOR THE GAZETTE IS NEITHER SENSATIONAL NOR STARTLING. It simply shows a pitiable state of affairs. It appeals to every man who has a sense of business management and should the stockholders of a corporation receive such a report from an auditor and operation examiner, they would rise in wrath and dismiss the ones responsible at once.

IF YOU HANDED OVER A TRUSTED EMPLOYEE A HUNDRED DOLLARS AND HE CAME BACK AND REPORTED THAT NOT ONLY HAD HE SPENT THAT BUT THAT HE WAS IN DEBT AND WOULD HAVE TO GET TEN OR TWENTY DOLLARS MORE TO DO WHAT YOU HAD TOLD HIM TO DO, AND YOU DISCOVERED THAT HE HAD ACTUALLY SPENT FOR RESULTS ONLY $40, AND $60 WAS WASTE, what would you do with him? Show him the door, of course.

Mr. Cummin made his examination without taking anyone into his confidence. He has credentials that will carry him any place and being a gentleman he has had no difficulty in seeing and finding out the things on which he makes report and has filed his recommendations.

The first part of the report will appear on Saturday of this week. It should be in the hands of every citizen of Janesville, not only this part of it but the whole report from end to end.

Why do Janesville property owners pay such a high rate for fire insurance? Do you know what the National Board of Five Underwriters has to say of Janesville? Supposing the insurance rate could be reduced for every person insuring property would it not be worth instituting the reforms suggested by Mr. Cummin? If by contributing to that reform through the investigation it has just had completed the Gazette can save the taxpayers a hundred thousand dollars or so. do you not think it is worth while to get busy and see that it is done?

EMPIRE STIRRED BY SHARP NOTE TO RUSSIAN SOVIET

HOSTILE ACTIVITIES IN EAST CAUSE OF ULTIMATUM.

RED AGENTS BUSY Britain Warns Propaganda Must Stop; Commercial Relations at Stake.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London.—Great Britain's sharp note to the Russian soviet government relative to hostile activities of bolshevik agents in the east, in London, Wednesday, claimed precedence in interest here over the Irish situation.

Mr. Lloyd George will probably have an informal talk over Irish affairs Wednesday with members of his cabinet who are at Gairloch, and Ireland will be the subject of a conference Thursday. But the foreign minister, with members of his cabinet, will be at Gairloch, and Ireland will be the subject of a conference Thursday. Hostile Russian Agents. Soviet Russia was accused of having carried on propaganda in Persia and Afghanistan, and sending agents to stir up disorders in India and to get in touch with disorderly elements in India, and with preventing a settlement of pending disputes between the British and the Soviet government.

The Russian government was asked for assurance that these activities would cease and it was intimated that the commercial agreement between this country and Russia would be imperiled by continued hostile machinations by bolshevik emissaries.

DEMOCRAT SCORES PRESIDENT FOR VACATION CRUISE

Washington.—The American people "want more work and less play," Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, declared today in the senate in denouncing President Harding's recent trip to New York on the presidential yacht, Mayflower. The trip was taken, he said, "while millions of Americans were suffering their last agony" because men who "helped win the war" were being offered on the auction block in Boston.

STORMS CAUSE BIG INJURY TO TOBACCO

Dampness Results in Shed Rot—City Hit by Another Storm.

Damage that may run into thousands of dollars is being done to the Southern Wisconsin tobacco crop through rot and shed rot caused by the rains of the past week, followed by the heavy rain of Wednesday and Tuesday according to local tobacco men. Tuesday's 85 degree temperature, accompanied by much dampness, is said to have caused the tobacco to rot to such an extent as to seriously affect the value of the crop.

Potatoes, although not grown so much in this part of the state, are suffering from the long period of wet weather. Farmers fear that rot has set in.

Little Damage Here. Comparatively little damage was done within the city limits. A heavy rain fell on Tuesday night's electrical storm. The display of lightning was vivid but not so sharp as in recent storms. During the preceding 24 hours, a 1/2 inch of rain fell.

"Rain checks" were given out Tuesday night by the Myers theater when lightning, striking the lines of the Janesville Electric company, put out the lights in the city. As well as in the entire section east of the river. Attempts were made by Manager Charles G. Boutin to continue the vaudeville act with hand spotlights but the rain was so heavy that it was necessary to dismiss the audience before the last showing of the movies was to be made.

Had South of City. The heaviest part of the storm seemed to be off towards the south of Janesville, from Orfordville to the vicinity of Darlington and Clinton. Electrical lights went out in Clinton all night, and in Darlington and Clinton junction went to bed early when the lights went out there. The latter villages are supplied with current by the Janesville Electric company, but the lights in the city went out.

Corn which has not yet been out to have been damaged considerably. Wonderful displays of lightning illuminated the country for about 15 seconds at a time. Despite this fact little damage was reported from it although trees were bowled over by the wind.

Much Power Trouble. The night was filled with nothing but trouble for the Janesville Electric company. The lights in the city went out at 10:30 and continued at intervals until 9:30. The trouble was all local. W. R. Schindler, manager of the company, said, and was caused by cross wiring of the lines and making short circuits. The lights were off from 6:30 to almost 10 o'clock. 800 Persons Are Killed in Great Chemical Blast

(By Associated Press) Paris.—Eight hundred persons are reported to have been killed and several hundred others injured at Oppau, near Frankenthal, in the Rhine palatinate, through explosions in a chemical products plant, according to a Mayence message to the Havas Agency, received here Wednesday. The disaster occurred at the plant of the Badische Anilin- und Fabrik concern, makers of explosive, nitrogen compounds. Early reports said there were two explosions which, besides causing thousands of casualties, did enormous material damage.

The town of Oppau itself was entirely destroyed by the explosions, the advices stated. The force of the shocks were felt for a distance of almost 15 miles around. In Mannheim, one person was killed and about 50 injured. The cause of the catastrophe is not known.

The region in the Rhine palatinate, where Wednesday's disastrous explosion occurred, was developed during the war into one of the most extensive and productive of Germany's chemical munition supply plants. Oppau itself is a comparatively small town, with only a few thousand population, but near by are Frankenthal, a considerably larger place, and Ludwigshafen, which has a population of some 75,000 and which, during the war, was accounted the largest German war chemical manufacturing centers.

During the war the region was frequently bombarded by allied air squadrons, Ludwigshafen being their particular target.

FARMERS FAIL TO OBTAIN HEARING Rock County Milk Producers Disgusted with Chicago Meeting.

Rock county farmers representing townships at the Chicago Milk Producers and Marketing company meeting in Chicago Tuesday, came home disgusted. The matter is still on between the rival factions for the control of the cooperative company, the officers refusing to resign.

"I think it was agreed among all the delegates from Southern Wisconsin not to attend any meeting other than that of the stockholders," declared W. T. Green, Orfordville, who represented Monroe county. "We could not obtain a hearing." The Chicago meeting was adjourned Tuesday night until next Monday. The purpose of the session was to devise means of collecting dues from 1,000 of the 1,500 members. From this subject the subject was shifted to the control limit and things waxed warm with President Frank Holt and Secretary Rockwell presiding.

Among those who were from Rock county were R. K. Overton, director; Charles Shimeless, Janesville, and Bert Skinner, Beloit.

Delegates were of the opinion that the meeting was a failure. The settlement could not be effected until the next year. Sales during the last month, it was reported, had shown a profit of $30,000.

"As long as this keeps up we are encouraged and confident of the future," expressed Mr. Green.

Ku Klux Warns Law Violators in Big Parade Shawnee, Okla.—Three hundred members of the Ku Klux Klan, in official regalia, paraded through the main streets of Shawnee and Lawton, Okla., Tuesday night, capturing the night editor of a local newspaper and taking him on the journey.

Nothing was done other than to display banners and send a warning note to law violators through the columns of a Shawnee newspaper.

Before allowing the newspaper man to leave the car in which he was taken on the trip, the following note was handed to him, addressed to a Shawnee newspaper:

"We are one thousand strong in Shawnee. Good Americans uphold the law. P.O.O. watch the Ku Klux Klan. Keep it in the hands of good Americans. P.O.O. We will clean Shawnee when the time is ripe. P.O.O. Bootleggers and gamblers will save trouble by leaving town. P.O.O."

Greer of Massachusetts, now American minister to Denmark, was nominated to be minister to Switzerland.

G. O. P. VICTOR AT NEW MEXICO POLLS Albuquerque, N. M.—W. C. Osterberg, in charge of democratic state headquarters here, Wednesday, conceded the election of H. O. Bursum, republican, as United States senator, over Richard H. Hanna, democrat, with reports from every county, with the majority of which the vote is practically complete. O. L. Phillips, republican campaign manager, claimed Bursum's majority would exceed 7,000.

Treaties Up to Congress Washington.—Congress re-assembled at noon Wednesday after a recess of 30 days with prospects that the extra session would lapse into the regular session beginning in December.

The treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary were sent to the senate for ratification at once by President Harding.

The treaties were accompanied by a brief formal note of transmission and were sent to the capitol by a White House messenger.

A proposal that the beer bill, which failed at final passage just before the recess, be pressed for early action was taken to the White House by Senator Sterling, republican, South Dakota, in charge of the measure in the senate.

Senator Sterling said, after a conference with President Harding, that he believed that the latter was anxious to see the bill enacted.

Bootlegger Worse Menace Than Robber, Says Morgan Madison.—The bootlegger is a greater menace to American society than the criminal who strikes at the rights of persons or the thief who robs people of their property, William J. Morgan, attorney general, declared in speaking before the W. C. T. U. at Oconto Falls.

"The insidious influence of the bootlegger imperils the structure of the law," Mr. Morgan told his audience. He declared that the tendency to view the liquor law violator differently than other criminals "encourages a spread of lawlessness and disobedience to the law."

"It is not merely to refrain from breaking the law ourselves, but it is the duty of every citizen to report to the enforcement officers the violations of law that come to their attention," the attorney general said.

"This is a principle of citizenship that is as old as America and older."

ARBUCKLE WITNESS VANISHES ENROUTE TO NEW YORK CITY

New York.—Lowell Sherman, an actor who is wanted by District Attorney Brady of San Francisco in connection with the case against Roscoe Arbuckle, Wednesday left a hotel in New York, and vanished in an automobile with a red haired woman.

This information was given to a representative of District Attorney Swann's office when he went to the Grand Central station here to meet the 20th Century Limited from Chicago and detain Sherman.

San Francisco District Attorney Brady was requested by District Attorney Swann of Chicago to return to San Francisco to return to San Francisco from his present whereabouts in New York state, "as he is not near home," said District Attorney Brady.

"We want Sherman to come back of his own accord," Brady said. "If he does not, we will compel him to come back. He is evidently trying to dodge us. We will figure on bringing a charge against him Wednesday. There are two serious charges we

FILM CENSORSHIP IS URGED AT MEET

Chicagoan Tells Catholic Charities of Effect on Children.

Milwaukee—There are 16,000 motion picture theaters in the United States and the revenue taken in at these places of amusement amounts to an average of $2,000,000 a day, Timothy D. Hurley, chairman of the Motion Picture Commission of Chicago, told the National Conference of Catholic Charities here.

"It follows," continued Mr. Hurley, "that no one individual or combination of individuals engaged in producing films for exhibition should have the uncensored right to show without restriction. Such exhibitions rightly come within state control, and the police power, and have repeatedly been so taken by the courts of last resort.

City Takes Testimony
The city council of Chicago recently took 1,500 pages of testimony of various persons having control and education of children and coming in direct contact with the family. These testimonies, after being analyzed by Prof. Ernest W. Burgess of the University of Chicago, showed:

1.—Motion pictures interfere with school work.
2.—The moral effect is bad.
3.—The view of life and life's duties are false and distorted.
4.—That the sex and vampire films appeal to the children.
5.—That there is less respect for authority than heretofore.
6.—That children from seven years up are preoccupied about the sex question.
7.—That there is a noticeable disregard in reference to the marriage ties and a bad effect on modesty and purity.
8.—That the children disregard the home and are dissatisfied therewith.
9.—That the physical effects on the children, as a whole, are harmful; the eye-strain is severe, the nerves affected, vitality decreased, and mentality dulled.
10.—That the effect on the rising generation, on the whole, is bad.
11.—That the average attendance of children of school age is two to three times a week.

Much Be Controlled
Motion pictures, however, relate to and directly bear upon and control, to an unbelievable extent, the trend of the mind and the education and morals of every man, woman and child in the community. William A. Brady, speaking for the motion picture industry, says: "In all probability the day is coming when the motion picture will be the educator of the world, and perhaps the teacher of the world of God."

"The question, then, narrows itself down to whether we shall turn over to the police the merchandising and the exhibition, backed by part of the press, the education of our children, or shall we create departments in the various communities where we reside, the members of which shall be appointed by the chief executive of the municipality or state, answerable only to him, who, in turn, is answerable to the people, to preclude the films before exhibition."

Give Women Chance
Uniforms have given way to colored gingham dresses, marching to a natural walk, and silence to talk at the Minnesota State Reformatory for Women, its superintendent, Miss Florence Monahan, told the conference. The state is trying to provide a normal, wholesome life for its women prisoners, she said.

"Most of them," said Miss Monahan, "would be like other women if they had had a fair start in life. In case after case one finds that the girl never had a normal home life. In nine cases out of ten she did not have a normal happy childhood."

"We must use the cottage plan in building an institution," she con-

GRIMM OVERRULES EDICT: "IGNORANCE OF LAW NO EXCUSE"

Ignorance of law and court procedure was accepted as a valid reason by Judge George Grimm for reopening a case after judgment had been once executed. The judge refused to allow additional attorney fees.

The question came up Tuesday in the suit of Julius Hakenstad against John Wall. The defendant is a farm owner near the raising and dilapidation of money from the sale of tobacco. Wall failed to appear in court and judgment was signed by Judge Grimm against him during the March term.

Attorneys R. M. Richmond, Evansville, and Otto Oestreich, appeared in court Tuesday afternoon for Wall with a petition to set aside the previous judgment and re-try the case on the next term.

L. E. Gettle, Madison, former commissioner member, presented legal arguments against granting the petition, alleging that ignorance is not an excusable reason. Numerous court decisions were read to indicate that lack of law knowledge, business or the English language is not a valid excuse for setting aside a judgment once granted.

"The modern court takes liberal views on these matters," advised Judge Grimm. "These old rules are no longer adhered to when justice is concerned. If this defendant has a meritorious case I want to hear it. His plea of ignorance of not knowing when to appear in court is reasonable. The case will be tried, there is a sum of $2,807.50 involved in the action."

Have Own Rooms
"All of us enjoy things which are entirely our own. By providing separate rooms for these women we appeal to this desire. Most of them have never in their lives had the joy and privacy of their own rooms. They must be taught to love cleanliness and to want to live in it."

"The two most potent physical factors in the rehabilitation of these women are plenty of wholesome food and sufficient constructive work."

"From May 1 to Nov. 1 we have a group of women working on the farm. They take care of a large garden and help with the haying, shocking of grain, cutting and husking corn. All this summer six women, under the supervision of one of their own number, have worked out alone with no attempts to escape."

"After a hard day's work, our women have all evening in which to read, crochet, sing, and enjoy themselves. Women who have special talents are encouraged to cultivate them. We have one woman on parole earning $15 a month as a stenographer."

ATTORNEYS FAVOR WOMEN ON JURIES

Few Object to It as "Fad" but Majority Back Plan.

The majority of Janesville attorneys are in favor of having women serve on juries in the Rock county circuit court.

A few offer strenuous objections declaring that placing a woman on a venire for jury duty is a "fad" and "experiment" which "will not do good to women as a class or women as individuals."

"You would not send a woman out to a pile of debris and have her deal with objectionable matters," declared one attorney. "A woman should not be even requested to appear in court in a mixed jury to hear the testimony of the cases which generally fill the docket."

These In Favor
On the other hand there is the following: "I can see no objections to women serving on a jury," declared Francis Grant, veteran court reporter and attorney. "Why not? The women of today are capable and have proven themselves so."

"I would have no objections to having women on a case I was trying," advised Thomas S. Nolan. "Women have a natural intuition on right and wrong. They are quick and keen to realize and acknowledge justice. Certainly let's have them on our juries."

"There are some women who would make capable women jurors, no question about it," declared Robert Cunningham.

May Be Nuisance
"I do not care one way or another," said T. D. Wansley, clerk. "They may prove a darn nuisance."

"There is not much difference in the abilities of man and woman," said John M. Whitehead. "On most cases I believe women will prove efficient with proper instructions on legal matters."

"Women should serve on juries after they have obtained a little experience and fundamental knowledge of legal matters," said M. G. Jeffris. "Women as a class lack the general business knowledge of men. Some of them are exceptionally skilful in business but as a rule they have not had training simply because they have not been obliged to make a study of the questions. I am in favor of it."

On Civil Cases
"I have no objections to women trying civil cases," said E. E. McClowan. "I do not think that they are as well acquainted with business matters or law as men but every one concedes the ability of women."

"It's all right with me—what I am at a disadvantage over lawyers like Nolan, Oestreich and Ed. Ryan because of their good looks," joked another.

The attorneys questioned were at the court house Tuesday afternoon either for the county court term or the hearings held before Judge George Grimm.

Your Heating Engineer— you used to call him Steamfitter

"During the first winter nearly one-half of their number died from exposure."

—ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA

JUST three hundred years ago they landed on Plymouth Rock. They were a courageous company—as sturdy and stout as the best of us.

But nearly half of them died from exposure.

The land to which they came was the same land in which we live; the winter was no more severe than our winters now.

But nearly half of them died from exposure.

Almost no one in America dies from exposure today. And why? Because of the service of a group of quiet, unassuming men. Working without special notice or praise, the men whom you call Steamfitters and Plumbers have made the newest nation the healthiest and best-warmed nation in the world.

They have done a wonderful work for America; and yet their work is hardly more than begun. Statisticians say that 17½ million homes in America still have no heat except the heat of old-fashioned stoves.

If every man who can install a heating plant should work every day, it would take a generation to give modern healthful heat to those 17½ million homes.

An almost overwhelming task! But think of the overwhelming economy! Every IDEAL TYPE A HEAT MACHINE substituted for a wasteful furnace or boiler means that one family's fuel bill is reduced one-third.

Every ARCOLA, supplanting a furnace or old-fashioned stoves, slashes the fuel bill of another home.

Of all the services rendered to the modern home there is none which pays for itself more quickly or more surely than the service of the Steamfitter and Plumber.

Call your Steamfitter or your Plumber in now and have him go over your house and report; his counsel may save you money. Make it a point to consult him twice a year as you do your Doctor or your Dentist. And do not be surprised if the old name over his store has been taken down and a new one hangs in its place.

For the men whose science and skill have robbed winter of its terrors and removed the breeding-grounds of disease, have outgrown the names by which you have been accustomed to call them. Their work has become a profession: the Steamfitter and Plumber of yesterday are today the Heating and Sanitary Engineers.

LABOR URGES REAL DISARM PROGRAM

Asks Legion to Help Make Nov. 11 Celebration Significant.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Copyright 1921 by Janesville Gazette.

Washington—American labor has asked the American Legion and other national organizations to cooperate in demonstrations throughout the United States on Armistice day, not only to celebrate the victory of 1918, but to impress the delegates to the conference on the limitation of armaments with the fact that the American people confidently expect a program which will reduce military and naval expenditures and minimize the chances of war.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has discussed his plans for parades and mass meetings on Nov. 11 which may exceed in point of numbers the processions of Labor day in past years. Mr. Gompers feels that the celebration of the day should be a day of national unity without that glorification of the event which is necessary to install in the minds of people a true appreciation of the sacrifices that were made to win the victory. The day should be a day of peace, a day of expression of the anti-war sentiment needed to insure a program of enduring peace.

Not a class movement.

Mr. Gompers makes it plain that he is not championing a class movement. He simply is notifying every trade union headquarters in every city and town in the United States that labor will take its part in what he hopes will be taken up by other civic bodies as a national celebration. When Armistice day has passed, it is the hope of the American Federation of Labor that a permanent committee of 75 members, representing all the various national organizations interested in disarmament and the cause of peace, will unite to secure the passage of a resolution to the effect that the limitation of armaments, so that there may be no doubt about the insistence of the American people on practical results. Mr. Gompers is in communication with the labor organizations of other countries. The building up of a worldwide sentiment behind the Washington conference on armaments is intended to assure the delegates of all countries that they may ignore the intrigues and malicious makers and go as far as they like toward lifting the burdens of taxation which have crippled Europe's purchasing power and indirectly helped to bring on an industrial depression in the United States.

What If It Failed?

Mr. Gompers asked what would be the course of the American Federation of Labor in the event that the conference failed to reach an agreement on the limitation of armaments. Would he favor the reduction by the United States of its army and navy irrespective of what the other powers did?

"I have always opposed and shall continue to oppose any suggestion that the United States disarm alone," replied Mr. Gompers.

So the movement of the American Federation of Labor does not ask the impossible, but aims to bring out public opinion in such a way as to show the delegates how unmistakable is public sentiment for an agreement on armaments. Propaganda against reduction of armaments is already in full swing. Inside our own government are many men who doubt the practicability of any agreement on military or naval expenditure. Also, there are those who believe the United States ought to continue her policy of aloofness and refuse to engage in any tangle of agreements with the rest of the world.

On the other hand, organizations like the League of Women voters and the American Federation of Labor and several church bodies are keenly interested in making the Washington conference on armaments limitation a huge success. One way, they believe, that success will come will be by manifestations of public opinion—mass meetings in which resolutions will be adopted.

Practical Results Demanded.

In other words, the organization of all those in the United States who favor armaments limitation is sought, so that the delegates from Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan, will be fully impressed by the proposals of the American delegation, and will see behind them a popular demand for practical results and not an evasive set of academic principles.

EARLY MERGER OF PHONES IS ASSURED

Commission Orders New Rates When Temporary Work Is Done.

One more obstacle in the path to early unified telephone service in Janesville is cleared away with the announcement of a new decision by the railroad commission authorizing the increased rates when temporary unification is completed. The original order of the commission dated June 11 was that the rates could not be raised until the merger was made permanently through one exchange.

The recent opinion and order specifies that the Wisconsin Telephone company may make use of the exchange and trunk lines of the Rock County Telephone company as well as its own in order to effect temporary consolidation.

Hearing held in August.

The decision follows a hearing at Madison a month ago when it was brought out by Attorney J. E. Keizick, appearing for the Wisconsin Telephone company, that permanent consolidation could not be effected before May 1, 1922. The plan now is to utilize both exchanges and to start at once toward providing single telephone service in Janesville.

The latest order of the commission, a copy of which has just been received by City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham, says, in part:

"On June 11, 1921, we authorized the Wisconsin Telephone company, which is acquiring the property of the Rock County Telephone company at Janesville, to place in effect a new schedule of exchange rates. Authority was given to place this schedule in effect on the first day of the month subsequent to such time as the physical rearrangement of the systems now owned by it and by the Rock County

Telephone company shall have been completed so that all service is furnished through a single central office.

Under date of July 23, 1921, the Wisconsin Telephone company filed with the commission an application in which it is alleged that it will be impracticable to furnish the unified service from one office prior to about May 1, 1922, but that it can practically furnish reasonably adequate unified service by means of trunking and the utilization of its own central office facilities and those at present owned by the Rock County company, pending the installation of equipment and facilities required to furnish such service through a central office.

That a reasonably adequate telephone service covering all stations in the city can be furnished by use of trunk lines and of two central offices as referred to, and that it is proper to modify the order of June 11.

"It is therefore Ordered, That the order of June 11 in the above matter be and the same is hereby amended so that the schedule of rates for exchange service provided in that order may be placed in effect on the first day of the month subsequent to such time as the unlimited exchange of local messages between the central office and system of the Wisconsin Telephone company and the central office and system to be acquired from the Rock County Telephone company, its further Ordered, That the order of June 11 shall not be construed to interfere with the installation or use of more than one central office in the furnishing of local telephone service at Janesville at such time as the needs of the service make more than one central office reasonably necessary."

THREATEN CUT IN HEALTH BUDGET

Hint Plan to Abolish Office of Sanitary Inspector.

Reduction of the personnel and service of the health department is being threatened by members of the city council making plans for the 1922 budget appropriations. Under the claim of economy it is stated that the office will be cut out of the health department.

The cut will not be made without opposition. Citizens have become interested in a campaign to retain the health department in its present state for the upbuilding of the public health work.

The total salary cost of the health department for the year 1921 was $3,000.00. The health department has been successful in securing a decrease in the number of deaths here from communicable diseases. Whereas in 1919 there were 11 deaths due to diphtheria, a decrease of 5 in 1920 and this year only one death has been caused by the ailment.

The department is now well established with a good system of protecting public health. It was stated Wednesday, "The city's health work is lower than any other city of Wisconsin. Public health is as important as streets, schools and courts."

Back to Old Ways.

Abolishing of the city sanitary inspector now would mean the reverting back to conditions when restaurant owners were not required to pass health inspections and the stores became indifferent to sanitation. It was declared. Conditions in the business district are not even yet satisfactory because of the failure to pass ordinance granting authority to the department officials to require the removal of nuisances.

Delavan—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad depot here was robbed, about 6:30 Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning, of about $20 in cash.

Three of Family Beaten to Death

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Downing, Mich.—A bloodstained club, nail-studded, and a bloody finger print, were the only clues Wednesday to the murder of three persons and the serious injury of another, a child, in their home here.

William Monroe, his wife, and their 17-year-old daughter, Nora, were found beaten to death with the club. In the same room was found Ardith Monroe, 10-year-old daughter, who had been beaten on the head with the club. The girl was made blind by the blows. Although her recovery is said to be doubtful, officers here hope she may be revived sufficiently to tell the story of the attack.

Chum Baker was discovered Tuesday when Ardith's club, Grace McKee, entered the home after hearing Ardith's scream. She found her playmate beside a bed and in another bed lay the bodies of the parents. A club into which nails had been driven was standing against the wall. On the wall was a bloody finger print. The club had been used to beat the heads of the victims almost beyond recognition. The interior of the home indicated no struggle had taken place and the body clothing was not disarranged, leading officers to believe the three were killed as they slept.

Motive Is Unknown.

Neighbors asserted the crime probably took place Saturday night, as members of the Monroe family were last seen at that time. It is believed Ardith lay wounded on the floor almost 60 hours before being discovered.

Authorities so far have been unable to establish a motive for the crime, as the home was not robbed. Officers believe it was the act of an insane person. Two inmates of the state hospital at Marquette, near here, escaped a week ago and officers are searching for them, although authorities declared neither of the men was of the criminal type.

Chief Orders Firemen to Study Maps

"Every man on the fire department is going to know the location of every alarm box and hydrant in Jansville or he is going to be sent to the hospital," declared Chief Con. A. Murphy, Wednesday, following disclosures made at the police and fire commission meeting Monday night that some of the firemen don't know where to find a hydrant when there is a fire.

Chief Murphy announced that he is going to institute a sort of a school on these subjects and that the weekly quizzes will be held.

"I have given each man a card showing the location of the alarm boxes and we have a blueprint showing all the hydrants. The men are already busy studying and I am going to question them next Monday. The firemen must know where to find a hydrant when there is a fire."

Chief Murphy sounded a warning to motorists against running over loose dogs at the time of a fire. Several violations were noted during the roundhouse fire last Saturday.

"The city ordinance and state law provide fines for such offenses and the new law that comes into effect next Monday will be enforced by my attention is going to be directed by Judge Maxwell," declared the chief.

Rector Opposes Ku Klux Klan

Disapproval of the Ku-Klux-Klan as being un-American and detrimental to welfare was expressed by Archbishop William Dawson, Madison, before the Rotary club Wednesday night at the Grand hotel.

The address proved inspiring to the Rotarians, being well given and founded on timely subjects. The speaker is an Episcopalian rector and would not be so bold as to lead any truly American unit to stamp out disloyalty but not such an organization that hides in white robes and acts in secret. It was stated.

Solidarity of the individual in trade, the desire for commercial supremacy, the rush for wealth, declared Rev. Mr. Dawson, were in turn reflected in national characteristics. National greed and trade rivalry was held as a contributory cause of the Great War started by Germany.

"National greed and human selfishness is still with the world," he explained. "Until that greed is set aside and man becomes human and less selfish, there is danger of international disputes."

Expressions were made for the success of the coming arms conference. "The world favors disarmament and needs lasting peace but that peace will not be fully realized until nations put aside the view that money and national prestige for wealth is everything," claimed the archbishop. "We do not want another war of materialism."

Methods used in the production and sale of lumber were explained in a short talk by Kenneth Jeffris.

He stated that 35 billion feet of lumber are produced in the United States from 30,000 saw mills, and that the mill or group of mills controls a central sufficient output to control prices. Competition was declared to be keen and that lumber is at low prices now.

"Much of the lumber now used has to be hauled one to two thousand miles for a market," Mr. Jeffris stated.

Publicity work is being done by the national association, aiding cities on adopting building codes, educational work on lumber and reforestation and urging the building of more homes.

T. O. Howe was named as the Rotary club representative for the meeting committee during the meeting of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities. Rev. Henry Willmann and J. R. Jensen were named from the Jansville club to attend the district Rotary meeting in Duluth next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Birthdays of J. P. Wortendyke, Joseph Connors and George Sherman were celebrated during the meeting. After Jansville Rotary meeting will be held on Tuesday instead of Wednesday, as the result of a resolution passed.

Auto Thief Given Year in Waupun

Rhodes. Caught Here, Pleads Guilty in Madison Court.

Pleading guilty to a charge of stealing the automobile of R. W. Cork, Madison, which he later sold to a Jansville party for $250, August Rhodes, Preppert, Ill., 35 years and married, was given a sentence of one year at hard labor in Waupun by Judge A. C. Heppman in superior court at Madison, Wednesday.

Jansville police are credited with having stopped Rhodes' operations as an auto thief and salesman. He was arrested in Jansville August 6 by Officer William Saxby and grilling for three days as to his alleged operations. Two cars were traced which Rhodes, it is alleged, had sold to Jansville parties for $250. One, a sedan, was identified by Cork as stolen from Madison July 25. Rhodes sold the car here July 25. The other car was identified later by Byron Cox, Beloit, stolen here.

The motor numbers had been changed so that it was almost impossible for the police to trace the ownership of the cars. Prior to Rhodes' arrest he had been under surveillance for several weeks. He registered at different hotels under several aliases. The charge of the theft of the other is probable that on the completion of his term will have to stand trial for the theft of the Beloit man's car. When he was first arraigned in the Dane county court he pleaded not guilty, but later changed his plea.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

THE PARTY

All through the last days of September and the first of October we kept late hours. My aunt was in and out of our home occasionally, but most of the time she was away.

My old friends began coming back to town, and, of course, they came to see us.

"We were so excited hearing about the engagement," one said—a girl in my class at school, a slim little brunette who affected a slight lisp. She pronounced it "the excitement."

"Vance Constance eloping," another called, smiling. "Call, fair haired girl, who had been told she looked like the Goddess of Liberty and who affected over after a certain lofty manner."

"And we're the anxious to meet your husband," Shirley went on. Shirley Beutick was one of last season's "buds," and her one ambition was to marry the richest man in her set.

"He'll be here soon," I told them.

But I wasn't sure. Win was still too engrossed with the city to make any serious efforts at finding a position. He spent his days in my car, hanging about the streets and around the houses near the city, and when I did not want to go he went alone. I decided it was a fascination he would get over, and said nothing in protest. I did want him to look a little more seriously, and I was disappointed in this sudden frivolity.

Win came in at ten time, as the girls were ready to leave. He was very proud of him when he came in, his hair ruffled where he had pulled off his cap, his eyes and skin glowing from the coldness of the outdoor air. Win was not handsome, but he gave that impression.

"The girls liked him, that was evident. I had been too anxious for that! For since Winthrop and I were to settle in the city, it was necessary that my old crowd like him. I preferred the simpler life of my own town—but he did not, and his word was my wish in those days."

"Vance Constance just going off to a little place in the country and having such a romance," my tall friend said, smiling at Win.

"And how well she looked!" Shirley took it up. "I like her hair cut, that way. I think I'll do mine that style. Constance, what did you do at summer besides getting married?"

"I learned to cook!" I answered. And then they both laughed. But I was not alone, and I looked annoyed at this domestic remark of mine.

"I suppose you'll both be at the Risdons' reception?" Nedda asked. "It's such a joke. Mrs. Risdons is opening the season this year, she's gotten tired of the Martins. They say Mrs.

Martin is furious. However, Mrs. Martin has a new count visiting her next month.

"Yes, we're going," I answered absently. I remembered suddenly I had not written Win's mother for weeks. "I'm having the loveliest gown—Nedda went on to describe it, and ended with its price. Win was more interested than I was.

"Have you a new dress for this affair?" he asked when the girls had gone.

"I shook my head. Then we ought buying furniture, and we simply can't spend more this month," I answered. "I've been keeping books. Win, I have all our expenses and our income listed, so we will always know how we stand."

"Oh, hang that!" Win exclaimed. "Please buy a new dress for it. You're so much prettier than either of those girls and I want you to be the prettiest person there."

I wanted to do anything that pleased him. I knew the sort of dress I would have to get, and I got it—going to my aunt's pet dressmaker. Win had to buy a complete evening outfit too. His old one was not good enough for the places we were going to.

I figured up the bills when they came in. "More than a thousand dollars, Winthrop," I said. "We can't go on this way."

"Oh, yes, we can. I only have to get one outfit like this—it will last years," Win said easily.

The money was spent, so I decided it was best to say nothing more. I dressed carefully for the reception, knowing Win wanted me to look my best. I had been home for several days, so I was fresh and rested. And I looked very well in the soft, frilly dress of blue silk. It was the shade of my eyes and it made my hair look even whiter than normally. And my hair was so long by this time that I could make a pretense of doing it up by using a jeweled comb in it.

In a way, this was Win's formal introduction to my friends. I was glad he looked well, and proud of him, as we entered the big ballroom at the Risdons'.

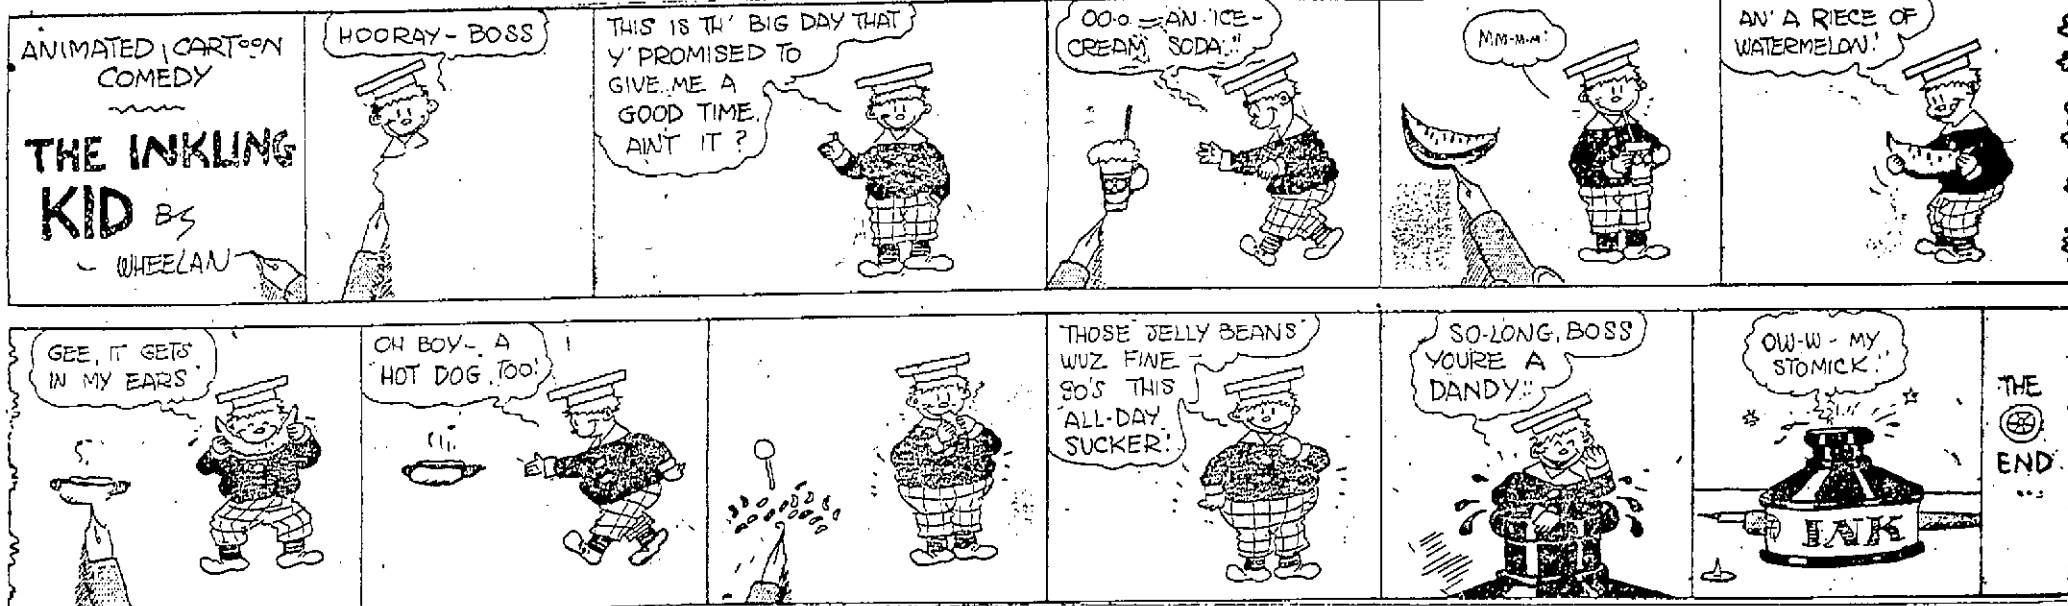

All my friends were there, all delighted to see me. And there were many new ones. My aunt was standing there, in a shimmering gray gown that clung about her. She smiled at us as we went over towards her. She was talking to a strange woman—a woman who turned and looked at us quite frankly as we approached.

I wondered who this stranger might be, who was invited to the very select Risdons' reception.

I was to find out soon enough. Thursday—The Strange Lady

Dinner Stories

A New York farmer complained at a vegetarian banquet about the materialistic quality of the age.

"When I was a boy," he said, "and a young fellow would be starting out to seek his fortune his mother would say to him with tears in her eyes: 'Be good, be good.'"

"But the mother of today in the same circumstances slaps the young fellow on the back, blows a cloud of cigar smoke in his face, and says: 'Whatever you do, make good.'"

For some time the 6-year-old boy of a Philadelphia man, the third in the family, has found it his duty to sift the family ashes, as his brothers did before him. One morning the kiddie was told that a baby had arrived, whereat the youngster looked very much pleased.

"And," continued the father, as he observed the pleased expression on his son's countenance, "it's a nice little girl!"

The boy's smile vanished instantly. "A girl?" he exclaimed, disgusted.

"Must I always sift ashes?"

Brown had at last obtained the correct recipe for "home brew" and had spent considerable time in preparing the first batch of it. He had placed it on a shelf in the pantry. Ten days later he looked for it and it was gone.

"Mary, where is the kettle I placed in the pantry about 10 days ago?" he asked his wife.

"Why it sat there so long I thought it had spoiled and I threw it out," she replied. And they haven't spoken to one another since.

BEAUTY CHATS by Edna Kent Forbes

Summer time is the hardest time of the year for the elbows. We wear short sleeved dresses so the elbows are exposed, which means that a great deal of dust and dirt is grimed into them and they become dry and sunburned and rather hard and ugly in appearance. This is particularly bad, of course, at the end of the summer, at the very time when everyone is trying on fall and winter dresses. Fortunately the elbows are the easiest part of the body to improve in appearance. If yours have become rather harsh and brown you can improve them amazingly in a few weeks by any of the following simple little treatments.

Scrub them with hot water and soap, rinse with hot water, and while the skin is still warm and moist, which means that the pores will be open, rub them with a little warm olive oil or pour the olive oil into a saucer and sit with the elbows resting in this for 15 minutes or so.

Scrub the elbows with hot water and soap as before and massage in a quantity of fresh building cream. Ordinary cold cream will not do since this contains only mineral oil, which is not nourishing to the skin. Massage as much into the skin as possible with the palms of the hands and wipe off what remains on the surface of the skin. This treatment can only be done at night, otherwise the oily elbows will absorb a lot of dust and dirt.

If the elbows are very bad, scrub as before, massage in a quantity of olive oil or fresh building cream, let a large amount of it remain on the surface of the skin and bind up the elbows to absorb cream for several hours during the night.

Scrub a girl 12, five feet two, should weigh about 105 pounds.

P. P. W.—Consult the doctor about your head as you should not have this discharge from the nose. This itching sensation comes from some trouble in the nasal passages. A nasal douche, used daily, will relieve the condition, but that is not sufficient. Any trouble in these passages, such as adenoids or catarrh, will injure the whole general health if not attended to.

P. H. H.—Massage the limbs with a strong solution of Epsom salts.

K. Y.—If the tendency to warts shows, a dermatologist should be consulted. Ordinarily, warts come and indicating nothing but a sluggishness of the blood.

Nowlan Wins Semi-Final; Plays Bennett Wednesday

PATTON PUTS UP GREAT SCRAP IN DROPPING MATCH

Two men alone remain to determine the 1921 city tennis championship when Clarence K. Patton, president of the Janesville Tennis club, was eliminated in the semi-finals round Tuesday afternoon by Merrill Nowlan, several times city champion in a four set match 6-0, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3. Nowlan now meets George Bennett Wednesday afternoon.

Nowlan's placements were unimpaired in their accuracy and he used his forehand shot to good advantage. He won the first set in quick time 6-0. Patton getting only 11 points. This was largely due to the fact that Patton was attempting a driving game while his best attack is a drop shot which he plays from the top of the net to all angles of the court. Patton attended in the second set but Nowlan's stroking was not to be denied and he won this also 6-2.

Patton, maneuvering like a whirlwind and with a determination to do his utmost, played superb tennis in the third set and won it 6-4. His service was working in this set and he made several aces. The play at this time was interrupted by a shower but was resumed later when the rain stopped. The second match set went up to Patton, with each man playing his service. Nowlan won Patton's service, his own and the final game after several rallies, when the score was deuced. Patton secured only one double fault and that was in the last set. This is unusual and is an indication of the type of tennis he plays.

The final of the doubles event between Merrill Nowlan and George Bennett against Don Bellis and Bob Cunningham was started at the close of the Patton-Nowlan match, but stopped at 6 o'clock of the first set on account of darkness. George Bennett and Merrill Nowlan play Wednesday in the finals of the singles and the doubles will also be finished.

Factory Pin League Meets Wednesday Night

Bowlers of last year's Industrial league, including the captains, and all others interested in getting into the circuit, are invited to a meeting for information to be held at the Gazette office at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. It is expected that a league similar to the successful one of last year will be formed.

The meeting was postponed from last week when not enough were present to get down to real business. It is planned to get the schedule and rules worked out Wednesday in order to start the league in the shortest possible time.

Blues Start Scrimmage Work

Luck was with the Janesville high school football squad Tuesday afternoon, the rain holding off until after they had completed their first practice in almost a week. Coach Reyer put the candidates through line scrimmage, working the defensive and offensive. The boys received their first instructions in playing and had a few minutes of signal work.

Work was started Tuesday in laying off the fair grounds field. Stakes were driven at 10-yard intervals or minimum yards. Effort was concentrated in the high grass that covers the grounds. This must be cut before practice can be held.

The first game for the Blues will be with Milton at Milton on Oct. 7. Effort are being made to get a game before that time to fill in for Delavan, which found it impossible to play so early.

No efforts will be made to fill the Thanksgiving date left open by the decision not to have a team this year at Evansville, until later.

PERING VISITS HERE; TEAM IS SUCCESS

George Perling, former manager of the Janesville Braves and now the pilot of the Sangamo Electric of Springfield, Ill., was in Janesville Tuesday. His team has won 20 out of 27 games since he took the helm.

Golf Showdown Starts Wednesday in U.S. Tourney

By Associated Press.

St. Louis.—The second battle of the links was waged over the field of the St. Louis country club Wednesday with a certainty that half of the gallant army of golfers would be extinguished at the end of 36 holes of fighting for the national amateur golf championship, now held by Chick Evans of Chicago, who in defending his crown will meet Richard Hockenkamp of St. Louis.

The skirmish of the title was led by Jesse Guilford, Boston, who after qualifying with a good score and eliminating George Van Elm of Salt Lake, in Tuesday's battle, measured drives with Dewey Weber of Chicago.

Next were Francis Guilmet of Boston who has won both national and international competition and H. R. Johnston of St. Paul.

The first international contest Wednesday was between P. D. Armour, Scotland, and Bob Gardner of Chicago, who has not only won the title twice, but took Cyril Tolley to 37 holes in the British championship last year.

The second international match involved a Willie Hunter, British champion and James Manion, St. Louis.
